

Stewards Notes – 7/12/17

New Members – Three new IAM members started on Monday – one 1st shift and one 2nd shift electrical maintenance, and one water plant operator.

Gun Raffle – Clay Carpenter is organizing an IAM raffle for a Henry Big Boy 357 rifle. It comes with a unique "IAM 912 2017" serial number. Tickets will cost $10 each or 3/$25. Proceeds from the raffle will go to Holidays for Heroes. The drawing will occur during the 1st shift general meeting in October. Look for more information soon.

Hooks & Hogs – Hooks & Hogs, a fund raiser for the Yellow Ribbon Project, is coming up on September 16 at White Oak Creek Marina and Campground. Six camping spots have been reserved, and if you are interested in one, please get your name in as soon as possible.

John Balli's Fund – The fund is almost up to $1500. With the GE match, about $3,000 will be given to the Hospice of Cincinnati.

Restroom Problems – Many members have been complaining about the condition of the restrooms. Complaints include paper goods not being restocked, and floors and sinks being dirty. Etna (the outside contractor) took over the jobs on Monday, and a difference is already noticeable. Please call 243-8080 if you have any custodial issues.

Split-The-Pot – To celebrate his birthday, Mark Koch won this week's Split-The-Pot Drawing. I hope he gets something good for himself.
